THE PIFLE-PACT.
WHICH IS THE BEST
HOBBY?
A BIGGER SOLAR SYSTEM.

—By Arthur Brisbane—(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE PEOPLE and the government of the United States should meditate on Hiram Johnson's interesting statement, that there will not be any war between China and Japan "because chopsticks cannot
fight against machine guns."

Chopsticks represent China, huge
in numbers, and unprepared. The machine guns represent Japan,
trained to the minute.

Who doubts that in a war between Japan and China Japan's 60,000,000 would easily defeat
China's 400,000,000?

Japan would be victorious because Japan is ready for the fight,
relies on preparation, not on foolish
peace sentiment, or what Hiram Johnson calls "The Kelloff Piffling Pact."

Alexander the great walked through Persia, driving his wedge
of Macedonians, a few thousands,
through the gigantic Persian army,
and a mile long front of fighting
Persian elephants.

Persia was bigger, richer, but
that made no difference.

This country is bigger, richer,
and if anything more self satisfied than Persia. That would make no difference, if any European or Asiatic country should send against us as many fighting airplanes as Alexander had men.

SOLEMN EDITORIAL writer
says "a man who has a hobby can never tire of life. He always has something of passionate interest."

The late Lord Northcliffe used to say "never neglect your hobby." His real hobby was the belief that he was like Napoleon.

Why not make life itself your hobby? Is life not sufficiently interesting, sufficiently short, sufficiently exciting, to supply a good hobby? Without collecting
postage stamps, strange coins,
or like one of the very rich
Rothschilds, collecting all different kinds of fleas, from the Arctic to the tropics.

Rothschild, at least, made a collection useful to science. Many robberies represent waste only of concentration.

Contemplation of life and the
universe, from the ants with their organized society at your feet, to the distant nebulae, and from
divine goodness to the strange,
murderous and swindling inclina-
tions of the human race, supply everybody with "something passionate interest."

SCIENCE says man's conception of his solar system has been limited and mistaken, like the opinion of the Chinese concerning their "middle kingdom." They called it
the middle kingdom because they thought it was the center of everything and about the only important thing. They learn from Japan
and Russia now, as they learned long ago from Genghis Khan and others, that China is not so important.

Astronomers say that the middle kingdom of our solar system with
which we are acquainted is comparatively unimportant.

Far out in space never seen by us,
there are probably a dozen giant
planets that would make only our
tiny earth but even great Jupiter
seem small, and they also belong to our solar system.

Starts Navy War

William Howard Gardiner (above), president of the Navy League, Washington, D. C., whose biting criticism of President Hoover's plan for economy in the U. S. Navy has brought two rebukes from the White House and the statement that the President expects an apology from Gardiner. The Navy League head declared Mr. Hoover showed "abysmal ignorance" in naval affairs.

LISBON YOUTH, HURT IN TRUCK CRASH, IS DEAD

Lawrence Vitalone, 12, Succumbs at Hospital, Funeral Tuesday

Lawrence Vitalone, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Vitalone, 821 Chestnut st., Lisbon, died at Central Clinic hospital at 3:15 p. m. Sunday from injuries sustained when a truck in which he and eight other Lisbon youths were passengers turned over on the Kensington-Lisbon rd., on Sunday, October 25.

A crushed skull and internal injuries, sustained when he was caught under the truck as it veered from the highway and crashed into a tree, proved fatal to the youth. His body was taken to the home of his parents last night.

Companions Taken Home
Three other youths, Gustave Pappas, 12, Fred Chalk, 15, and Lewis Evans, 12, also injured in the accident were taken to their homes in Lisbon Saturday afternoon.

The four, together with Henry Arthur, 28, North Beaver st.; Jack Howard, 19, North Beaver st.; Glendon Bowman, 15, Salem-Lisbon rd.

County Infirmary Fast Nearing Quota

LISBON, Nov. 2.—Time is approaching, according to Supt. John P. Neill of the county infirmary
when it will be impracticable to admit additional men and women
at the institution. There are 153
men and women registered now,
with the women's section filled to capacity.

Only six more men can be received. After this quota has been reached, it may be necessary for the county to provide additional quarters. Under normal situations,
the capacity of the institution is sufficient for all requirements.

St. Clair Township Poultry Is Stolen

The poultry farm of E. L. Trotter, St. Clair township, was robbed of 50 chickens by thieves late Sunday night.

Sheriff W. J. Barlow is investigating.

ADAMS ATTACKS PACIFIST UNIT IN NAVY BATTLE

President, at Same Time, Fights "Big Navy" Organization

GARDINER LACKS UNITED SUPPORT

World Peace Foundation Criticized by Cabinet Member

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The
strange situation of President
Hoover battling openly with a militant big navy organization while a cabinet officer struck out at a pacifist foundation today swirled
about the navy.

The President was working toward a showdown with the Navy
league, and particularly its president, William H. Gardiner, who described him as showing "abysmal
ignorance" of naval matters.

Secretary Adams charged the World Peace Foundation with interpreting national defense statistics
"in a manner inimical to the United States and in a manner favorable to the national defense interest of foreign powers."

Gardiner Ranks Break

The bitter dispute between Mr.
Hoover and the navy league entered its second week with Gardiner lacking the full support of his membership. Henry Breckinridge, a former president of the league and a Democratic assistant secretary of war under Woodrow Wilson, yesterday broke ranks.

Referring to the league's charges
that President Hoover lacked knowledge of naval matters and was attempting to "starve" the sea service,
Breckinridge said:

"I desire to dissociate myself
from so much of the statement as speaks with disrespect of the president of the United States."

His terse statement, the first public sign of disagreement in the league membership with its president, broke the temporary lull in the controversy with Mr. Hoover.

Awaiting League Roster

The chief executive is awaiting a roster of the league before naming a committee to investigate its charges against his naval policies.

9 IN RACE FOR LISBON COUNCIL

Six to Be Named; Rauch-Albrecht Mayoralty Fight High Spot

LISBON, Nov. 2.—While a full Republican ticket is to be voted upon here Tuesday, the Democratic party has only a partial list of candidates for that ballot.

G. Cecil Rauch, the Republican candidate for mayor, is opposed by Frank E. Albrecht, who previously served in this office, while Lloyd
C. Binsley, Democrat, present village clerk, is opposed by Clyde G.
Lewis, Republican.

W. Howard Armstrong, village
treasurer and Dalton E. Pike, village marshal, are without opposition.

With six to be elected, there are nine candidates for council, these candidates being Nevin Albright, Frank N. Willard, Sherman Apple,
Charles H. Baker, Edward Buckley,
Roy E. Gilbert, Harry M. Mason,
Roy E. Patterson and Clarence L.
Robinson. Albright and Willard
are the only Democratic candidates.

Of the candidates for board of public affairs, W. E. Fisher is the sole Democratic candidate, three Republicans seeking re-election being Fred C. Davis, William M. Morgan and John H. Vogan.

There are six precincts in the village, one having been added last
fall, when the largest ward was divided.

Contesting Will

William L. Edison (above), a son of Thomas A. Edison by his first marriage, states that
"action will be started to contest the will" of his father. The bulk of the inventor's fortune
was left to his two youngest sons, Theodore and Charles,
with the entire six children
sharing in the residuary estate.
William claims undue influence over the will was exerted
on his father before his death.

SUPREME COURT JURIST SPEAKS AT GREENFORD

Florence Allen Guest of Mahoning Women On Achievement Day

Women of the United States,
in concerted action along the proper
lines, can do much to solve many
of the country's present day problems. Judge Florence Allen of the Ohio Supreme court told women of Mahoning county in an address
at an achievement day program Saturday afternoon at the Greenford
High school auditorium.

Program Given By Women

Judge Allen gave the main talk
on a program of music, readings
and demonstrations, prepared by the women for this occasion and
presented to an audience of several hundred people.

Smith township women received
the prize in the attendance contest.

That there is a need in America
today of holding up the standards
set by Washington and other
statesmen to stabilize our government and to promote its spiritual life, was emphasized by Judge Allen. "To carry out these ideals is
the matchless opportunity of the men and women of today," she said.

"We are living in a wonderful time when science is changing so rapidly our outward life. We have seen amazing changes in our time."

Ten Young Orators Entered In Prince of Peace Contest

Presbyterian Church Event Scheduled Wednesday; Other Churches To Send Speakers to Methodist Contest Next Sunday Evening

Ten contestants will speak at the Prince of Peace contest at 7:30
p. m. Wednesday at the Presbyterian church.

Sponsored by Church Council

The Prince of Peace contest is sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches with a view of stimulating interest in peace and giving
the young people a groundwork for future leadership.

The council presents bronze
medals to local church winners, silver medals to county winners, gold medals to congressional district
winners, and cash prizes and scholarships to those who place in the final contest, which will be held at Columbus in January.

According to reports more than 1,000 boys and girls over the state
between the ages of 14 and 18, are preparing for the contests.

The winner to the Presbyterian church will speak at a contest
with representatives of other churches of the city next Sunday
evening at the Methodist Episcopal church. The winner at this contest and the winner at the Presbyterian church contest will go to the county contest. The time and place of the county event has not been announced.

While detailed plans for the contest at the Methodist church will be announced later, it is expected that representatives from Christian, Methodist and Baptist churches will compete.

Names of contestants at the Presbyterian church and their subjects follow:

John Paul Olloman, "Why Not Peace Now?"; Mary Campbell, "Let Youth Be Heard"; Margaret Star-
buck, "Strike Up the Band"; Carl McQuilkin, "Why I Hate War";
Charles Meek, "Let There Be Universal Disarmament"; Clair King,
"Christianity Versus Militarism";

OHIO TO SEND TWO MILLION TO POLLS TUESDAY

State's Interest On Charity Bonds, Congressional Battles

GOVERNOR'S BOND ISSUE FACES TEST

East Liverpool, Alliance To Ballot On "Blue Law" Issues

BY EARL H. WILSON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 2.—Nearly two million Ohioans will mark ballots tomorrow in an election spar-tled with political coloring and packed with tremendous economic significance.

While individual municipalities
are stirred by exciting mayoralty
battles and a confusing maze of "charity bonds," general statewide
interest is centered in congressional battles in Cincinnati and Cleveland
and in Governor George White's welfare bond issue.

The tumult of campaigning faded
away today before the overshadow-
ing "day of reckoning," while voters
weighed the pros and cons of what they recognize as a crucial election
with the ghost of depression haunting the polls.

Vote On "Charity Bonds"

"Charity bonds" will be submitted to a score of communities and out of the vote will come the answer to the question of whether emergency relief action will be necessary at a special session of the state legislature.

Governor White's welfare bond
issue plan, to be acted upon in a state-wide ballot, will test whether
the voters are willing to dig down
into flattened purses and approve a $7,500,000 expenditure for improvements at welfare institutions.

Central and Southern Ohio will vote on levies needed to keep public schools in operation on a normal
basis.

Blue Law Battles On

Alliance, Wooster and East Liverpool will each be scheduled in a vote on "Blue law" ordinances, imposing a ban on Sunday afternoon
movies.

Due to the precarious financial conditions of several local educational systems, a hotter-than-usual
school board fights have sprung up.

The congressional battles at Cleveland and Cincinnati old more than localized interest. The entire nation is watching the outcome of these two elections, particularly
where a successor to the late
speaker is to be chosen to fill the vacancy left by the death of Speaker
Nicholas Longworth.

Both candidates for the late
speaker's congressional seat, State Senator David P. Lorchbach, carrying the Democratic standard, and John B. Hollister, Republican and promi-

Lauds Workers On Lighting System

With the work of installing Salem's new street lighting system
nearing completion, Frank R. West, superintendent of construction, today praised the men engaged in this work for their efforts.

In spite of the fact that the force was changed several times in
an endeavor to give more men employment, the spirit of the men
thus displaced was commendable,
West said.

Nearly 25 miles of underground
conduits were placed and the work was performed by Salem men.

A Millionaire at 15 Months

Many men work a lifetime to amass a million or less, but John Mitchell Reynolds, III, shown viewing the world with utter nonchalance with his mother, Mrs. John Reynolds, Jr., has been a millionaire since he was 22 days old. Less than a month after John was born, his maternal great-grandmother, while hurrying to see him in New York, was killed. She had, however, willed him $1,785-415. Not only that but the lad, now 15 months old, eventually will inherit $20,000,000. What a life!

M'CULLOCH CO. IN BUSINESS 19 YEARS IN SALEM

East State St. Establish-ment Originated In Pioneer Block

The P. S. McCulloch company,
East State st., Tuesday will observe
the nineteenth anniversary of the establishment of its drygoods store
in Salem.

The McCulloch company originated in 1912 with the purchase of the A. W. Jones store, then located in the Pioneer block, northeast corner of what was then Garfield ave.
and Main st., now Lincoln ave. and East State st.

The business was continued there
for a period of eight years when the demands of an expanding trade
necessitated larger quarters.

From the Salem Wallpaper and Carpet Co., was purchased the building in which McCulloch now operates a thoroughly modern and up to date store. The expansive floor space especially unbroken by pillars or supporting columns, is unique in an establishment of its kind.

R. S. McCulloch is sole owner of the store. Mr. McCulloch, a Salem
resident, also is associated promi-nently with civic activities.

In connection with the anniversary observance, the store will hold
a special sale, extending over a period of approximately two weeks.

Maccabee Officials Will Visit Salem

Ed L. Young of Norwalk, commander, and F. F. Swarz of Toledo, recorder, are expected here tonight for a district Maccabee field
workers conference, under the auspices of Quaker City tent No.
144, Knights of Maccabees.

The district is composed of the tent in Columbiana, Mahoning, Stark and Carroll counties. Organizations throughout the sections
have been invited.

Between 25 and 30 field workers
are expected for a dinner at 6,
which will be served by members of the Salem hive. About 200 are expected for the conference.

3,200 COUNT IS EXPECTED HERE BY ELECTION AID

Municipal, Township, Judicial Candidates End Campaigns

ELECTORS TO ACT ON STATE ISSUES

84 Precinct Workers Receive Final Instructions Here

Names of 52 candidates for 25
municipal and township offices, 20
of them contested, will be submitted to voters of the City of Salem and Perry township in three ballots as they visit 14 polling
places here in Tuesday's election.

More than 3,200 electors are expected to cast ballots during the day's voting. Charles A. Cavanaugh,
member of the county election
board, estimated today.

Vote On State Issue

With a vote scheduled also on a
state-wide bond issue of $7,500,000,
proposed to provide funds for the rehabilitation of Ohio welfare institutions, voters will be given four ballots as they enter their polling places. The bond issue is submitted
in the form of an amendment to the state constitution and is a direct outgrowth of the Ohio penitentiary fire in which 320 convicts
lost their lives.

Names of Republican, Democratic and independent candidates for
city offices together with township
office-seekers will be listed on one ballot. A second, the judicial ballot, will list 10 candidates for three justice of peace offices while aspirants to election to the board of education will be submitted to electors on a third ballot.

Twenty-three candidates are listed on the three municipal party
tickets while 29 are listed as seeking township offices. In the city
there are ten contests, including a three-cornered race for the mayoralty, while all but one of nine township offices are contested. Five candidates are in the fight

THE COMING CONGRESS

The time for the convening of the new congress approaches rapidly. In six more weeks its members will be in Washington ready to open a session that, for importance and the prospect of turbulence, has not been equalled since the war. The date has been anticipated since last March 4, when the former congress filibustered its swan song.

The first partisan clash will come with the organization of the house. For the first time in years the question of the party control is in doubt. Guesses have been upset repeatedly by creation of new vacancies as members have died. Even when all the vacancies have been filled, control may still rest with the uncontrollable element of the membership which is taking advantage of a rare opportunity to peddle its support. The part that is able to elect a speaker and control the important committee chairmanships will hold unusual power in the house of the new congress.

There is no lack of important legislation to be passed: There is no lack of ridiculous nonsense to be rejected. The general program first will be given in the President's message. There will be, also, the program of the Democrats, and last, the program of the "progressives." In this last program will be concentrated a good deal of the nonsense that will muddle the new congress's work.

The most important of the constructive measures will be that one to raise revenue for the government's running expenses, which have been running away from income in the last year. Increased taxes are unavoidable. There will be vasty important discussions concerning the form they shall take. Secretary Mellon's suggestion for a broader tax base and Senator Reed's proposal for a general sales tax are certain to be an important part of the discussion.

The depression will provide many topics, among them revision of the banking laws, with special reference to broadening the usefulness of the federal reserve system, unemployment relief, and legislation to help the railroads. Foreign debts will come up early for consideration, since congress convenes only a week before the next payment to this country fall due. The administration's domestic and foreign policies, which have been exercised conspicuously the last few months, will be discussed, and there will be, no doubt, the perennial issue of veterans' relief.

Philippine independence, prohibition, the power issue, the farm board, and the gold standard round out a full prospect. To represent the people in the coming congress is a privilege and a responsibility that will test the mettle of American character.

What Others Say

THE ANNIVERSARY OF A MISTAKE

With Minneapolis' December wheat selling at $1.27 a bushel in a free market, the federal farm board, just two years ago today, inaugurated the loan policy that has proved to be just one of its many grave mistakes.

Under that policy, wheat held by qualified cooperatives could be put up as security for government loans on a basis of $1.25 a bushel, Minneapolis. The purpose of the lending, as stated by the board at the time, was to permit withholding grain "from the present depressed market with the hope of obtaining better price later." The statement insisted that, "based known world supply, the present prevailing prices for wheat are too low." It voiced the belief that a price level it called unsatisfactory was "chiefly due to the rapid or disorderly movement which is putting a large part of the year's supply of wheat on the market within a short time." And Chairman Alexander Legge, on November 7, supplemented this statement with another, in which he said:

"Any one selling wheat or cotton at the present market prices is foolish. I do not think there is any danger of wheat prices dropping below the loan level for any length of time."

These loans, because they could be obtained only by farmers and farmer elevators willing to abandon their old marketing arrangements with private grain dealers, undoubtedly served as a club for the drubbing of a private trade which had been giving the farmer better service than any government sponsored co-operative has ever been able to provide.

This promise of loans, because it was supposedly good "until the close of the marketing season," but was broken long before that date, undoubtedly caused many farmers to hold their unpawned grain until it was too late either to sell it as the relatively high price of the autumn of 1929, or to pledge it for loans at the fixed price.

This assertion that wheat prices were lower than the situation warranted, this assurance that they would soon go higher, undoubtedly retarded the curtailment of production which would have really stiffened prices.

And this concerted holding of American wheat off the market undoubtedly cost the American farmer the loss of a large share of his former export outlet. His old customers abroad, finding they could not get American wheat in normal volume unless selling to bid up the price, naturally turned to other sources of supply, including their own domestic growlands.

Why was all this damage done? Simply because the farm board swallowed the old Townley-Equity myth that the marketing of grain through sale and hedge, with the speculator carrying risk of a fall in price, was a confidence game in which the cards were stacked against the grower.

We believe the farmer has learned his lesson. We doubt that the farm board has, in spite of the fact that the $1.27 a bushel, which was called too low by Chairman Legge two years ago, would seem a magnificent return to the producer, in comparison with today's wheat values.—Minneapolis Journal, October 26.

The Stars Say —

Tuesday, Nov. 3

According to the predominant astral forces affecting the affairs of this day a most important and quite unexpected development may shape the affairs into wholly new and welcome currents of opportunity and advantage.

Those whose birthday it is may plan for a year of sudden change of far-reaching influence on the business as well as private affairs. A child born on this day should be ingenious, original, independent, adventurous and at the same time of admirable social qualities, through which it may enjoy a happy and useful life probably in the public service.

Notable nativity: William Cullen Bryant, poet and editor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Diary of a modern Peppys: Up and a letter from my old companion Lloyd Scholl and a bid from Hamlin Guild to be his holiday guest in far away Tahiti, also news I was godfather to Missouri University's monthly gazette, "The Show Me."

And Herb Roth came and we reminisced of early days in the city, our poverty and piety.

In the afternoon talking on the phone to Floyd Gibbons who is in a lather about Yellowstone park, declaring it to be the most engaging place in all his vast travels. And his tale of fighting a forest fire as rollicking an adventure as ever I heard.

Will and Jessie Hays, Will, Jr., and Harry Silvey to dinner and afterward to vaudeville. And saw among others Bolon Mallory, who suggests a full-sized Douglas Fairbanks, Lyn Lary and Mary Lawlor and Mary Lewis. So circling the park in the mystic, naked twinkle of the moon.

The lobby of the new Earl Carroll offers a Parisian touch and new note in box offices. Instead of the tiny window cage with bars, three attendants in full evening dress stand at a long counter in the open and sell tickets and attend to reservations. Only whiskers are needed to make it another Folies Bergere foyer.

Incidentally, the growth of feminine smoking at the theater between acts is a phenomenon of modern life. An agile press agent recently took count at such an interval and found women smokers outnumbered men by 11. He saw but one man smoking a pipe. And he was R. M. Brinkerhoff. Many ladies light up as the final curtain is descending.

Perhaps the nearest to the Gay Nineties "evenings" that once brought out the reigning celebrities of the day are the informal dinners once or twice a week at the pent house home of the Walter Trumbulls on Central Park West. Their salon is aglow with diverse personalities on these occasions—playwrights, columnists, magazine editors, visiting arcadians, novelists, stage personalities and figures from the world of sports. The dinner is buffet and no especial effort is made to entertain. Guests are brought together and soon conversation bubbles as lively as the coffee urn. Mr. Trumbull is a sporting writer and correspondent and Mrs. Trumbull is an archaeologist of distinction.

Personal nomination for one of the best after-dinner story tellers in town—Montague Glass.

Mr. Glass, despite his many years in America, has not shaken off his native Manchester, England accent. His repertory offers the greatest fecundity of any story teller—next to Cobb. His comic spirit as a raconteur always flowers in sheer freaks of absurdity which inspire that spontaneous laughter that rips off vest buttons and threatens apoplexy.

Aside from Glass and Cobb some of the notable after-dinner story tellers of the town are Charles Hanson Towne, Rupert Hughes, Bugs Baer, Harry Hershfield, E. D. Coblenz, Rube Goldberg, Al Jolson and Wilton Lackaye. Perhaps two of the greatest were the late Renold Wolf and Harry Reichenbach.

Most professional wits had to run the gamut to acquire the many-splendored art of public speaking. Bugs Baer, for years, could not face the smallest audience even when composed of intimates. He blushed and stammered as did Irvin Cobb and Montague Glass. It was constant effort resulting in many agonizing moments that did the trick.

My first and last effort at forensics was at a luncheon in St. Louis nine years ago. When I stood up my mouth opened and closed like a ventriloquist's dummy, but no words came. Finally there was a despairing falsetto squeak—like a rusty gate hinge—and some startled scoundrels in the audience shrieked: "It's alive! Stamp on it!"

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
New York City

Rest Periods Conserve Health
Every season of the year is vacation time. I fear the business depression may have changed many a vacation plan this year. This is unfortunate, because health should never be secondary to anything.

Money can buy most articles of ware and it affords many means of amusement. It will not purchase health, but its proper use will prevent disease.

The surest way to prevent disease is to treat the body with respect. After working constantly for many months, it becomes almost imperative to give the body real relaxation. This can be obtained only by change of surrounding and the mode of living.

Even if your vacation is only a week or two weeks, I would strongly recommend that you go away from home. Going out of the city into the country permits you to partake of abundant fresh air and sunshine. Undoubtedly, you would never submit yourself to these health-giving agents if you stayed at home.

Most Americans are negligent of their health. This is too bad, because no matter how strong you are, if you continually subject your body to work, without sufficient rest, sooner or later your body will suffer.

Those individuals who do mental work require rest and relaxation just as much as if their occupations consisted of muscular work. In fact, it has been definitely shown that the man who uses his mind suffers just as much from fatigue as the man who uses his arms.

Let me warn you, too, that if you are on your vacation or about to go on one, you should rest as much as possible while away. Most individuals who are on vacation think that indulgence in excessive exercise will do them a great deal of good. This is not the case. Exercise should be moderate and not done to any severe extent. Rest, take long walks, sun baths and a daily afternoon nap. Go to bed early and get up early.

Do not go to bed at night extremely fatigued and imagine you are having a good time. You may really be having what you regard as a good time, but that is only why you are on a vacation. You are out to rest your body and this can only be accomplished if you do everything in moderation.

SYNOPSIS
Leaving Hawaii shortly after her father's death, young and beautiful Fanchon Meredith goes to San Francisco, where she meets and loves a handsome man named Tony. Fanchon is shocked to learn that Tony is a racketeer, implicated in a recent murder. She, too, is now wanted. Fanchon escapes in an airplane under the name of "Smith." Evelyn Howard, whom she had met on the boat coming from Hawaii, is aboard. Evelyn is en route to New York to live with her aunt, the wealthy Mrs. Carstairs, whom she has never met. After Fanchon confides in Evelyn, the latter treats her coolly. The plane crashes and Fanchon is the only survivor. She decides to escape Tony and the past and start life anew by masquerading as Evelyn. She requests a doctor to write Mrs. Carstairs that "Evelyn" is safe. A wire comes from Mrs. Carstairs saying that Collin cannot meet Fanchon. Fanchon learns Collin is Mrs. Carstairs' only son. Mrs. Carstairs meets Fanchon at train explaining "But you're not Evelyn, are you?" You can't be. The girl's terror of being discovered when Mrs. Carstairs explains she couldn't believe anyone so beautiful could belong in the family. Her kindness and affection prick Fanchon's conscience.

CHAPTER X
There was a little silence. Fanchon felt her heart lift on a sudden surge of hope. She was not Evelyn Howard. She was not of this woman's blood. But Evelyn was dead. You robbed the dead of nothing. Fanchon was alive. If she could be so to this woman what Evelyn would have been; if, with her own longing for affection, for home and for safety, she could even be more than Evelyn would have been, would that not be counted, perhaps, in her favor? Evelyn, she knew, from the little she had seen of her, was less concerned with her emotional relationship to her aunt than what that aunt held out to her in the way of promises of ease, luxury, money—a chance perhaps to marry well. With those things Fanchon had very little concern. What she wanted and what she was prepared to give in return was something very different, something into which money and material things did not and could not enter. She spoke, stumbling a little over the unaccustomed form of address. "I—I want to make you as happy, Aunt Jennie," she said in her low, charmingly husky voice, "as you have made me already."

A little silence fell between them. And in it Fanchon vowed to dedicate herself to this woman's service, whatever it might be.

"Presently—Here we are," Mrs. Carstairs said blithely. "I'm putting you in one of the guest rooms for your own rooms are to be done over for you this summer."

"Gee" was an apartment on upper Fifth Avenue; a penthouse apartment overlooking the Park and the reservoir. A man servant opened to them and Mrs. Carstairs said, "my niece, Miss Howard, Jameson."

Jameson, an elderly person, seemed genuinely moved. He made Fanchon a curious, stilted little speech of welcome and Fanchon smiled at him, gently. She realized then that all her servants adored Jennie Carstairs. It was easy to see why. "Jameson," explained Mrs. Carstairs, leading the way in, "has been with me for many years and so is one of the family. I brought him up from the country to look after us for a few days."

The apartment seemed enormous to Fanchon. She caught glimpses of a huge dining room, and music room, on one side, living room and library on the other, all opening off a square hall. These rooms, explained Mrs. Carstairs further, all opened upon a terrace and Fanchon could see through the long French windows flowers blooming and small trees, gay chairs and couches and awnings.

"I keep the apartment in livable shape," Mrs. Carstairs went on, "as Collin runs in and out all summer and must have a place to stay."

She hesitated and began again, her clear skin flushing.

"Collin . . ." she went on, "is up North. You may have wondered why he isn't in town to meet you?"

"No," said Fanchon with perfect truth, "I hadn't wondered at all."

"I wrote you," the other woman said, "about his attitude. But I would rather explain more fully later."

She took Fanchon into a lovely room on the second floor. It had a big connecting bath. "It is at the end of the hall from me," Mrs. Carstairs told her. "Your own room, when it is ready, opens on the gallery and next to mine."

A middle-aged woman was waiting in the room. "This is Emma,"

Mrs. Carstairs told Fanchon, "she will look after you."

She had done so already. The bed was turned down, the windows open to what cool air there was. A sheer nightgown and a negligee and slippers lay nearby.

"I guessed at the size," Mrs. Carstairs said. "You are taller than I thought, but we will manage to get some little frocks for you before we go down to the island and with the minimum of discomfort. You wrote me, you know, that you had very little."

Fanchon flushed in shame for Evelyn Howard who could pack her trunk to come East and write her aunt that she "had very little." Had Fanchon been in her place . . . but she was in her place!—she would have gotten along with what she had and said nothing out of sheer stubborn pride. She said now.

"Oh, but I didn't mean—I can manage perfectly well with what I have."

She wondered a little wildly just what clothes the trunk would contain. Evelyn, as she remembered her from shipboard, had rather run to frills and furbelows and clothes of an inexpensive material and lots of them. Fanchon's own tastes were more expensive yet simpler.

"Never mind that now," Mrs. Carstairs said quickly, "you get undressed and into a hot tub. Then you climb right into bed. I'm having my own doctor come and look you over, after your dinner."

"I'm perfectly all right," Fanchon protested, "please don't bother. Really, Aunt Jennie!"

"I want to be sure," the older woman told her, smiling. "You're to have a light supper on a tray and I will have one with you. Then the doctor. And tomorrow we will talk."

She left the room after a word to the maid. The little straw suitcase had been brought up and was on the canvas luggage stand. The maid moved toward it.

"Don't unpack it," Fanchon told her, "there is nothing of my own in there. It must be returned."

"Very good, Miss Evelyn. May I run your bath?"

"Please," said Fanchon.

There had been plenty of servants on the plantation. Fanchon was perfectly accustomed to service, although she had lacked it for eight months or more now. But it was easy to slip back into the old ways.

Presently she was lying full length in the great marble tub, her bandaged arm a little awkwardly out of the water. There was a warm scent of fragrant bath salts. The bathroom itself was quite beautiful, tiled in green and black and white. Fanchon closed her eyes and dreamed. But it was all a dream.

Later, rested and refreshed she was in the big swan bed, with pillows piled in back of her, looking about the pretty room. Emma appeared, with a table that swung out over the bed and a tray. On the tray was supper—invalid's fare . . . a quaint little pottery bowl of soup, the white breast of a chicken, a baked potato and a vegetable, a salad, a cup of custard and coffee. Fanchon, who had been hungrier than she thought, looked at it with delight, and at the silver, the pretty china, the bread and butter sandwiches cut wafer thin.

Mrs. Carstairs came in, in a dark tailored satin lounging robe. Her hair, free of her hat, was lovely, masses of it, pure silver, waved close to her fine head. Emma pulled a big chair close to the bed, arranged a tip-top table beside it and Jameson brought in the second tray.

"Your mother and I used to do this, now and again," Mrs. Car-

stairs commented, and sighed heavily.

To Relieve Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

If you have catarrhal deafness or head noises, go to Lesse Drug Co. and Broadway Lease Drug Store, or your druggist, and get 1 oz. of Parmit (Double Strength) and add it to ½ pint of hot water, and a little sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little, and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has catarrhal deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

TO THE VOTERS OF SALEM:—

At this time I wish to clear the misunderstanding which seems to exist in regard to the legality of my candidacy for Auditor. Before announcing myself a candidate for that office, I took the matter up with the members of the Board of Elections, and they informed me that it would be legal to have my name written on the ballot.

In order to vote for me, it will be necessary to write the name of Helen Woerther on the ballot in the space "For Auditor" and mark it with the usual "X". The name can be written in either the Democrat or Republican space.

During my past administration as City Auditor, I have been able to save the taxpayers thousands of dollars on various bond issues. On the Disposal Plant Bond Issue alone I was able to save $9,500.00.

I am always ready to serve the taxpayers by giving out any information that is available in the Auditor's Office. My records are always open for public inspection.

If re-elected, I will continue to conduct my office in the courteous and efficient way.

I earnestly solicit your vote and influence at the Election, Tuesday, November 3rd.

NEWS FROM NEARBY DISTRICTS

WINONA

The Needlework guild will hold its annual meeting in the Methodist church basement on Thursday evening, November 5. Rev. Anderson, pastor of the Winona church, who has had experience in the settlement work in Chicago will be the principal speaker. Readings will be given by Mrs. J. Richard Stamp and special music is being arranged. An interesting program is being planned. The meeting will be followed by a social hour.

Members are asked to turn in their garments on or before Nov. 3. These garments will be displayed at the annual meeting.

L. T. L. Convenes

Twelve members and two visitors attended the L. T. L. meeting Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Megraill.

Lydia Brantingham talked to the children about missions. Scrapbooks are being prepared for sick children in hospitals. The next meeting, Nov. 26, will be with Gladys and Lowell Edgerton, which time the officers for the coming year will be elected. The hostess served candy and popcorn for lunch.

The regular meeting of the P. T. A. has been postponed because of the Four Township church convention on that date. The P. T. A. meeting will be held one week later on Friday evening, November 13.

Entertain Workers

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Whinery entertained a number of their farm aids at their home Saturday evening. The ladies served an oyster supper. This supper is an annual affair and comes at the close of the ensilage cutting season.

The revival at the Gurney Friends church came to a close Sunday evening. Rev. Harry Randall has been conducting these meetings during the past two weeks. His morning service Sunday was based on "Testimony Meeting in the Skies" and his subject Sunday evening was "Put on the whole armor of God." Two young students at the Bible Institute helped at the evening service and furnished special music.

Prayer Meeting Wednesday

The midweek prayer meeting service will be held at the church Wednesday evening under the direction of Rev. Lydia Brantingham. The Epworth League service at the Methodist church at 7 p. m. Sunday was in charge of Miss Camille Whinery. The topic was, "Has Christianity Lost Its Vitality?"

Rev. A. R. Anderson preached from the partial text "Seek Ye First the Kingdom of God and His Righteousness." at the evening service at the Methodist church. In the future the evening service will begin at 7:45 instead of 8.

Convention Speaker

Rev. A. R. Anderson will be one of the speakers on the afternoon program at the Sunday school convention next Friday afternoon at North Benton.

Paul, Sherman and Esther Brantingham were entertained Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Irey.

Rev. and Mrs. Harry Randall of Alliance were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Martin Brantingham Sunday at the parsonage.

COLUMBIANA

The condition of Rev. E. F. Wiest, seriously ill the past week suffering with toxic poisoning, is slightly improved. His children, Miss Ruth Wiest, Lebanon, Pa.; and Mrs. John Mertz and Edward Wiest of near Philadelphia are at his bedside.

Entertains at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Koch entertained a group of friends Wednesday at a dinner party at their home, East Park ave. The evening was spent playing bridge. Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Tod Erb and Miss Louise Griffith, Youngstown; and Miss Helen Koch, New Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hum, Union st., quietly celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with a family dinner at their home, covers being laid for 25 children and grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Hum received a number of nice gifts.

The Class of 1931 of Columbiana High school has presented the school with a new bulletin board as a class gift. The board is being placed in the hall, and is nine feet long and three feet wide, with four glass doors.

Reserves Meet

Girl Reserves met Wednesday afternoon for tea at the home of the leader, Mrs. E. F. Miller. Mothers of cabinet members, lady high school teachers and some members of the Sorosis society, were also guests.

Members of Sunday temple, Pythian Sisters held a Halloween party Wednesday in K. of P. hall, cards being the chief diversion of the evening. Mrs. C. E. Stahl held the lucky number and was awarded the evening's prize of a table lamp. Refreshments were served by the committee: Besdames Harvey Hisey, Roy Kerr and Frank Kyser. Post Commander W. J. Eaton and Adjutant George Frye were acting as captains in the membership contest being conducted by Benjamin Firestone post, American Legion. The contest ends January 1. New members welcomed at the last meeting were: Samuel Lindsay, E. R. Engle and Monroe Garber.

LEETONIA

School was dismissed Friday as the teachers of the consolidated school district attended the North-eastern Ohio Teachers association convention at Cleveland.

The Priscilla club of St. Paul's Lutheran church held a masquerade party in the church basement Friday evening.

Entertains at Party

Miss Darlene Little entertained friends at a Halloween party at her home south of town Thursday evening. Games and dancing were the pastimes. Mrs. Frank Waddell, Miss Little's mother, served lunch. Miss Gladys Wreath entertained friends at a Halloween party Friday evening at her home. Games were the pastime. The hostess, assisted by her mother, served lunch.

Name Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders elected for the year by high school students are: Catharine Cope, Emmett Putz, Margaret Redfoot and Dorothy Stratton. Mrs. A. F. Rauch is visiting her son, Dr. H. F. Rauch at Pittsburgh. C. J. Spatholt has returned from a business trip to Texas.

Miss Constan Feyock is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. E. Schoren at Cleveland.

Visit Relatives

Miss Helen Schaeffer and Miss Vera Chamberlain, students at Kent State, spent the weekend at their homes.

Mrs. E. Ray Miller of Youngstown, spent Friday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson and other relatives. D. Wallace Rebekah lodge No. 79 will hold a "500" party at the I. O. O. F. hall Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

COURT NEWS

Given Divorce

Ruby L. Lewellen, who filed a divorce action against her husband, Willard Lewellen, has been granted a decree by Judge Benner Jones on the grounds of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. She has also been restored to her maiden name, Ruby Lighthill. The case was the last heard by Judge Jones before he closed his assignment in this county. The plaintiff in this action was represented by Attorney Walter B. Hill.

by its power of gravitation pulled an enormous piece out of our sun. That enormous piece broke up into small pieces, which now revolve around the sun as planets, the small pieces in turn throwing off satellites, like our moon.

That theory may go to join Descartes' "vortex" theory, and other theories designed to "explain" the universe without the necessity of a creative mind, which has always seemed unsatisfactory to many.

He has already branded the accusations as "untruths and distortions of fact" and warned Gardiner he would expect a correction and an apology at the conclusion of the inquiry.

Secretary Adams in his attack on the world peace foundation, recalled its publication of what it believed was "a most surprising relation" that the American navy had credits in the fiscal year 1930 totaling $553,378,595 against appropriations of $242,850,711 for the British navy.

Actual expenditures of $375,291,828 during the year were listed by Adams for the American fleet, with those of Great Britain estimated at $349,927,670.

especially to the manner of travel, from the horse and buggy of a quarter of a century ago, to automobiles and airplanes. We have scrapped the old for the new," she said.

Forget Stability

"In some things where we have scrapped the old for the new, we have ceased to hold fast to the things that make for stability and spiritual power."

Judge Allen places the responsibility for so much lawlessness on the people. "We have tolerated the official who has tolerated the gangster," she said.

She pointed out that where there is a functioning unit of government there are men who are asking protection in the violation of all law, and men who are willing to pay for this protection. "This is where you and I are responsible for placing officials in office who cannot say no to their friends, who believe that the office belongs to them. ## W. H. Strawhecker Dies in Leetonia

LEETONIA, Nov. 2.—William H. Strawhecker, 79, resident of Leetonia for 60 years, died at 3:45 p. m. Sunday at his home, 383 Somer st. Heart disease is given as the cause of death. He had been in ill health for some time.

Mr. Strawhecker was born May 10, 1852, at New Castle, Pa. On April 23, 1878, he was married to R. Jane Aulton, who died about five years ago.

For a number of years Mr. Strawhecker was employed in the paint shop at the Crescent Machine company plant.

He is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Margaret Rice, Salem; Mrs. J. H. Walker, Youngstown; Mrs. L. R. Porter and Mrs. Carri Petens of Leetonia; one son, Fred, of Leetonia; one brother, 10 grandchildren.

Private funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the home in charge of Dr. H. C. Brillhart. Interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

LISBON CRASH VICTIM DIES

and Thomas Costigan, 25, South Beaver st., were passengers on the truck driven by William Fawcett, 22, of Lisbon, enroute to their homes from an independent football game played at East Canton.

Rounding a corner near Kensington, the truck suddenly left the highway, turned over and crashed into a tree.

Driver Freed On Bond

Fawcett, arrested by Marshal Dalton Pike following the crash, pleaded not guilty before Mayor George Bradbury on a charge of reckless driving and is now free on $1,000 bond. Prosecuting Attorney John E. Bauknecht this morning asked Coroner Ernest R. Sturgis to conduct an inquest into the accident.

Funeral service for Vitalone will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday at St. George's Catholic church, Lisbon. Burial will be in the Lisbon cemetery.

THE DAY IN SPORTS INDIVIDUAL STARS WANE

SOMETHING IS HAPPENING to football stars this fall. It doesn't seem to be their season to shine, for some reason or other.

There are few names that have appeared often enough during the present season to make them recognizable, and most of the few are hangers-on from last year and the year before. There is, for example, Albie Booth who stepped into the headlines three years ago when he stood Army on its ear with his excellent playing. Booth is as good as he ever was, but it's the Yale team that is playing this year's schedule. He is a member of the team.

Then there is Notre Dame, which once used to be represented by the "Four Horsemen." At other times it was Knute Rockne who was winning the games. Last season there wasn't a football fan shivering in the stands who couldn't have recited the names of Carideo, Schwartz, Savoldi, and Brill, with Bucky O'Connor and Moon Mullins thrown in for good measure. Ask the fan for Schwartz and come up abruptly against the realization that he doesn't remember the rest of them.

If the day of the individual star be passing, and there is abundant evidence for the belief, coaches, players and spectators can give their lustiest nine rains. The coaches should be willing to join in for no other reason, because misery loves company. Their individual fame is passing, too. The thing the Carnegie Foundation's report tried to do with facts and figures is being accomplished by common sense.

Football is a team game. The ball carrier who makes the All-American team has a good team clearing a path and blocking off interference from behind. The lineman who mops up the opposition has a dependable comrade helping him. Football will be a more enjoyable game when spectators quit watching the stars and come down to earth.

We do not mean by this that there are no individual stars; there are thousands of players better than the average but it is a fact that their talents would be worth little in winning of a football game but for cooperation and fine team play of his fellowgriders.

The Salem High team this year is a fine example of extraordinary cooperation. Its backfield of Ed Beck, John French, Jack Carpenter and Gordon Keyes might well be given a niche of honor in the school's hall of sport fame and given the title "four horsemen." It is among the best of all around backfields the school has ever produced.

The line, too, has its outstanding stars, with Big Ed Raymond, Purn Sidinger, Erwin Beck, Norman Early, Adam Pukalski and others. These fellows and others who compose the forward wall are the ones who bore into the opposition to halt touchdown drives, block punts, break up passes. This all on defense; on offense they open holes for their own backs, punch their way down the gridiron and march on to victory.

THOMAS FRENCH, Salem High basketball star last year, is one of the main reasons for a bright outlook for 1932 football, at Denison college where he is now enrolled as a freshman. French is captain of the frosh grid squad and plays half back. His yearlings last week trounced the Denison varsity, 46-0.

He spent the past weekend visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. French, Franklin St.

Another college boy home for the weekend was Henry Reese, who of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reese, who is developing into a star pupil at Wooster college. Sammy Drakulich, member of the Ohio State varsity squad, was also in the city.

What Saturday's Grid Stars Did

(By Associated Press)

ALBIE BOOTH, Yale and BILL McCALL, Dartmouth—Each ran wild to score three touchdowns in 33-3 tie.

MARK TEMPLE, Oregon—Accomplished for both touchdowns in defeat of New York university, scoring one himself and tossing pass for the other.

STANLEY FAY, Michigan—Led Wolverines to victory over Princeton with pair of touchdowns.

MARCHEMONT SCHWARTZ, Notre Dame—Gained 183 yards in 23 attempts against Carnegie Tech.

JOHNNY FAIRBANK, Cornell—Scored one of Cornell's two touchdowns against Columbia and passed to Jose Martinez-Zorrilla for the other.

DUSTY ALLEN, Stanford—His 35-yard pass to Don Colvin in last nine seconds of play gave Stanford victory over U. C. L. A.

RIP SLUSSER, North Carolina—Scored three touchdowns against North Carolina State.

CHICAGO—An excited motorist reported to police he had seen two women kidnapped. Squad cars investigated and found two models clothed in $4,000 fur coats had been stolen from a fur store window.

HORSTMAN TAKES FIRST PLACE IN N. E. O. CONTEST

Quakers Will Compete In State Meet Saturday
At Columbus

DISTRICT CONTESTS
HELD IN CLEVELAND

Hope to Annex Ohio Title
For Second Straight
Year This Week

Salem High school's cross country team reigned supreme in Northwestern Ohio competition for the second consecutive year Saturday as the Quaker runners, annexing four out of ten places, showed their heels to more than 175 opposing sprinters in the annual district meet at Cleveland.

Horstman Places First
Paced by Harold Horstman who succeeds Wilfred Brantingham, 1930 Ohio champion, as No. 1 man of the Quaker squad, the Salem team easily outdistanced runners from 25 other sectional schools and, along with Akron East, will compete in the state meet at Columbus next Saturday.

The Eastmen finished second in point standing to the speedy Red and Black squad and both were qualified, through their victorious performances, to race in the state championship.

Lisbon Youth Seventh
Horstman raced through a pouring rain over the two-mile course under Clarke ave., bridge in Cleveland to break the tape far ahead of his nearest adversary, Farmer of Cleveland Lakewood, who placed second. Vashiner of Akron East was third while close behind followed Stanley Kamsky, another Salem High representative.

Frank Thierault and Bruce Shasteen furthered the Quaker cause by placing sixth and eighth, respectively. Westover of Lisbon High, placing seventh, ahead of Shasteen, also qualified for entrance in the state meet.

Lakewood Third
Cleveland Shaw High placed fourth with Cleveland Collingwood fifth. Lakewood's strong team, ranked as Salem's most threatening opponent, was third.

The meet was declared by Henry W. Luther, manager, to have been the most successful ever held in the district and involved some of the best runners ever entered in an N. E. O. cross country event.

BOARDMAN WINS COUNTY HONORS

Burkle - Coached Eleven Defeats Sebring To Annex Title

BOARDMAN, Nov. 2.—Coach Buck Burkle's Boardman High eleven became undisputed champion of Mahoning county Saturday, defeating Sebring's hard fighting aggregation, 13-6.

The defeat was the third handed to the boys from the pottery town by the Boardman lads in as many years. Early in the year, Boardman trimmed the Lowellville team and made a bid for the county championship.

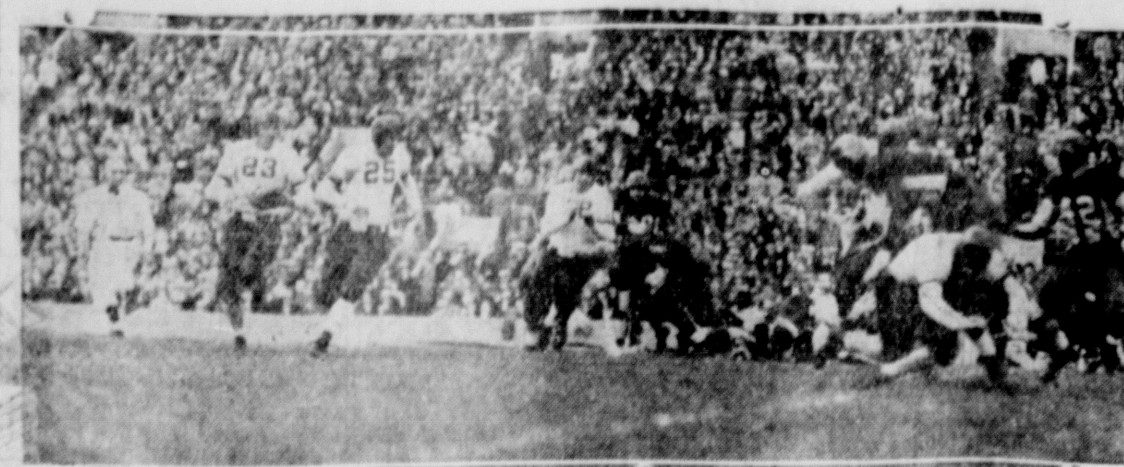

Both elevens battled through the first quarter without a score. Each managed to make a touchdown in the second quarter. Neither made the extra point and the score remained tied until McGowan, flashy Boardman quarterback, pushed over for a touchdown near the close of the final period.

Wins N. E. O. Title

Harold Horstman, one of Ohio's greatest half-mile runners last year, added new laurels to Salem High athletic achievements Saturday winning the Northwestern Ohio cross country championship in the district meet at Cleveland Saturday.

Northwestern Defeats Illinois

Twenty-five points, run up in the first period before Zuppke's team from the University of Illinois could get fairly started, gave the Northwestern Wildcats a flying start to an ultimate victory of 32 to 6. The game was played at Dyche Stadium, Evanston, before a crowd of 30,000. "Pug" Rentner Northwestern righthalf, is shown making the first touchdown.

CRUCIAL GAMES LISTED ON GRID THIS SATURDAY

Dartmouth, Harvard To Battle; Tulane Team
To Oppose Auburn

Within the nation's conferences the schedule and its bearing on championship football races can be outlined briefly as follows:

EAST: Dartmouth, after its 33-3 tie with Yale, must tackle undefeated Harvard; Pitt plays Carnegie Tech. Villanova meets Temple. Bucknell tackles Georgetown and Colgate faces Penn State in other big time games. Cornell, one of the best, takes it easy with Alfred and Princeton should get back into the winning column against Lehigh. Yale plays St. John's of Maryland.

Wildcats Meet Gophers
BIG TEN: Minnesota and Northwestern clash in the big battle. Other conference games pit Wisconsin against Illinois and Indiana against Michigan with Wisconsin and Michigan the favorites.

BIG SIX: Kansas State, tied with Nebraska for the lead, faces improved Iowa State and Kansas plays Oklahoma. Nebraska and Missouri play non-conference foes, the former battling Iowa of the Big Ten and Missouri facing Drake of the Missouri valley conference Friday night.

Tulane Plays Auburn
SOUTH: With Georgia in the north and Tennessee taking on Carson Newman in a breather, Tulane holds the spotlight with its tussle against Auburn. Eight other games are on the conference list, involving Maryland and Vanderbilt; North Carolina and Georgia Tech; Virginia Poly and Washington and Lee; Duke and Kentucky; Alabama and Florida; Sewanee and Mississippi; Clemson and Virginia Military; and North Carolina State and Mississippi A. and M.

Champions Defend Titles This Week

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Title defenses by Christopher (Bat) Battalino, king of the featherweights, and Maxie Rosenbloom, light heavyweight champion, enliven an otherwise uninteresting fistic program this week.

Rosenbloom puts his crown in jeopardy at Kansas City tonight when he faces Battling Bozo, in a 12-round encounter.

Battalino on the other hand, may have his hands full retaining his featherweight toga when he clashes with Earl Masstro, speedy Chicago veteran, at Chicago, Wednesday night.

Bowling Notes

The "Flaming Five" duckpin team will bowl Salem China pin-crashers on neutral alleys tonight in the deciding match of a three-game series. The teams collide at the Sebring Recreation.

"Flaming Five" players are to meet at Jesse Schafer's Place at 7 o'clock. The following are asked to take notes: "Red" White, Ray Giese, Frank Corso, Russell Stallsmith, Bernard Decrow and Chet Drakulich.

Northwestern Team Meets Gophers for Title; Pacific Coast Leaders Will Clash

BY HERBERT BARKER,
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The Big Ten and the Pacific coast conference continue to swing the football searchlight upon themselves this week despite another array of important inter-sectional tests.

Wildcats Battle Minnesota
In the Big Ten, Northwestern and Minnesota, the only untied and unbeaten conference teams, are matched in a battle that almost certainly will decide the tie. Especially does this hold true if Northwestern wins.

In the Pacific coast race, Southern California, with four conference victories, will clash with Stanford, unbeaten but tied by Washington. With all other conference teams beaten at least once, this struggle virtually will determine the 1931 champion.

The situation is less clearly defined in other major conferences. All the standouts are Georgia, Tulane and Tennessee in the south; Southern Methodist and Texas Christian in the southeast; Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell and Syracuse in the east; Nebraska and Kansas State in the Big Six; Utah and the Utah Aggies in the Rocky Mountain group; and Notre Dame among the midwest independents.

This week's inter-sectional warfare finds Notre Dame again involved in an important fray. The Ramblers will stay at home at South Bend to entertain Pennsylvania, undefeated and untied. Georgia and Tennessee are Georgia, Tulane and Tennessee in the south; Southern Methodist and Texas Christian in the southeast; Harvard, Pennsylvania, Cornell and Syracuse in the east; Nebraska and Kansas State in the Big Six; Utah and the Utah Aggies in the Rocky Mountain group; and Notre Dame among the midwest independents.

POTTERS DEFEAT CANTON ELEVEN AS MCCOY STARS

East Liverpool Tallies
Two Touchdowns In
1st Half to Win

EAST LIVERPOOL, Nov. 2.—Playing their best football of the current gridiron campaign, East Liverpool High gladiators outclassed Canton McKinley to win a 12-7 verdict over their old rival here Saturday.

It was the first Pottery victory over the Stark countians since 1918 and Garner McCoy, freshman fullback, was the big star of the victory. He scored both touchdowns after consistent gains through the Bulldog line and played great offensive ball throughout.

Canton scored late in the fourth period when a long pass from Jim Doll was knocked by Kapp. Pottery quarterback into the hands of Kephache, Canton halfback who ambled 30 yards for the marker.

First downs were three for McKinley and 12 for East Liverpool.

OHIO U., DEFIANCE TEAMS HEADED FOR GRID LOOP HONORS

By JAMES L. RENICK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two conference football championships were almost clinched Saturday afternoon on rain-soaked gridirons when Ohio university trampled over Ohio Wesleyan at Athens, 18 to 0 and Defiance college gave Bowling Green its first league defeat in 15 starts, 15 to 0.

Ohio now stands undefeated at the top of the Buckeye Athletic association race and Defiance is in a like position in the Northwest Ohio conference. Ohio has a pair of games remaining on its schedule, one with DePauw this Saturday and the season's final with Miami next week. However, the Oxford game is the only thing Peden & Co. has to fear as a defeat from DePauw would not count in the standings as the Indiana school is only a probationary member of the circuit.

Beacrats Lose 15-0
Muskingum kept in the undefeated and untied class Saturday by turning back Cincinnati, 15 to 0. This week the Muskies will entertain Wooster for their homecoming attraction.

Wittenberg and Baldwin-Wallace also remained undefeated, the Springfield eleven defeated Heidelberg, 14 to 7, and Baldwin-Wallace ran up a 31 to 0 score over Kent. This week Wittenberg will play its only B. A. A. game of the season, taking on Miami at Oxford while Baldwin Wallace plays Ashland at home.

Case took its ancient foe, Wooster 7 to 6. This week the Scientists play at Hiram.

Wesleyan will play an inter-sectional game at Providence, R. I. where it meets Brown. Mount Union will act as host to Detroit Tech. Grove City will play at John Carroll, Earlham and Bluffton and Findlay at Bowling Green in the only Northwest Ohio game on the books.

The center of attraction this week will be at Columbus where Ohio State plays an inter-sectional contest with the Navy eleven which was held to a 0 to 0 tie Saturday by West Virginia Wesleyan while the Buckeyes were stopping Indiana, 13 to 6.

Rayen High Scrubs Defeat Salem Team

Youngstown Rayen High reserves defeated Salem High's reserves, 13-6, in a hard fought encounter at Reilly athletic stadium Saturday morning.

Wardlaw's 70-yd. run for the victors in the second quarter featured the game.

Orange Juice Varied
Aren't we ever going to have anything but orange juice for breakfast? grumbled Junior, protesting for the third time in the week against swallowing more of golden vitamin. Grown-ups get to taking orange juice as regularly and inevitably as the morning coffee and toast, and it's a good habit to instill in the youngsters. However, if there isn't a sufficient quantity absorbed at the morning meal, it's possible to serve orange juice in other ways during the day.

For example, cereals can be flavoured in orangejuice instead of milk or cream.

Orange Cereal
1 cup strained orange juice
2 cups cooked cereal
Little sugar
Dash of salt.
Rice, tapioca, farina, hominy, or any similar cereal is cooked until tender in only as much water as it will absorb. Heat the orange juice but do not let it come to a boil. Add the hot cereal and mix well.

Orange Cookies
1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup orange juice
Grated rind 1 lemon, 1 orange
1 egg
3 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla.
Dash of salt.
Rub together butter and sugar until smooth, then add the beaten egg white and continue beating with orange and lemon rind. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately to the first mixture with orange juice. Place in refrigerator overnight.

In the morning roll the dough quite thin and cut with fancy shaped cookie cutters. Place in greased baking pans and lightly brush top of each cookie with white of egg, unbeaten, and a little granulated sugar. Bake in a moderate oven.

Loses 37 Pounds of FAT in 5 Weeks

Formerly stout people are certainly thrilled with joy since they discovered a quick and easy way to get rid of extra fat. It is called Bonkora—the new Battle Creek reducing treatment, the safe and natural way to take off excess pounds by cleaning wastes from the intestines and removing retained moisture from fatty tissues. Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett, Battle Creek, Michigan, jubilantly reports 37 pounds of fat in five weeks—since taking the Bonkora treatment.

If you really want to lose fat, try a little Bonkora in half a glass of water for the next week. See how quickly your unwanted pounds vanish by the "3 easy stages" as shown in the above picture. Eat plenty. The big secret is selecting the foods you like in their proper combination—so they do not turn to fat. Free list furnished shows you how to choose the correct combinations. Know the joy of health and a slim, attractive, youthful figure.

First Semester Events Are Listed

The complete calendar for the first semester of the 1931-32 school year at Salem High school, fixing dates for various class parties and other functions, was announced today by Wilbur J. Springer, principal.

Athletic events top the list of extra-curricular activities scheduled during the first semester, football and basketball games and contests involving the school's state championship cross country team being outlined. The semester ends January 29.

The senior class party will be held on November 20. Juniors gather in their fete December 11. The schedule follows:

Nov. 6—Football, Youngstown South here; Nov. 7—State cross country meet at Columbus, Nov. 11—Armistice day; Nov. 13—Football, Lisbon here; Nov. 20—Senior party; Nov. 22—Football, Alliance here; Nov. 25-27, Thanksgiving vacation; Dec. 4—Athletic association party; Dec. 9-10—Senior class play; Dec. 11—Junior party.

Dec. 18—Christmas vacation begins; Dec. 19—Basketball, Lisbon here; Dec. 27—Basketball, Massillon here; Jan. 1—Basketball, Alliance here; Jan. 4—School resumes; an 8-Basketball, Canton, here; an 9—Basketball, at East Liverpool; Jan. 13—High school band concert.

Jan. 15—Basketball, New Philadelphia, here; Jan. 22—East Liverpool, basketball team here; Jan. 27-28-29—Semester examinations.

Child, 3, Is Killed

MIDDLETOWN, O., Nov. 2.—Betty Trimble, 3, was shot and killed yesterday when her father, Madison Trimble, 26, pulled the trigger of a revolver he believed to be unloaded.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Lockjaw Fatal To Youth In Alliance

(By United Press)
ALLIANCE, Nov. 2.—Death of Floyd Fankhous, 11, who succumbed to blood poisoning in City hospital here marked the first case of lockjaw treated in the hospital in many years, doctors said today.

The boy suffered a bullet wound in the hand while playing with a gun a week ago. The wound became infected.

Correction
The A. H. Fuhs advertisement in Friday's paper carried a line, "Free Delivery." This was a mistake and should not have appeared in the ad.

When Lindy Took Sudden Dip in China

These pictures graphically show the sudden and totally unexpected dip in the Yangtze River which Colonel and Mrs. Charles E. Lindbergh suffered while their powerful low-wing monoplane was being lowered into the water from the British airplane carrier Hermes. Upper photo shows Lindy, stripped to waist and without shoes or socks, examining damage to his overturned craft. At left, the Colonel is calling directions to the Hermes, which is about to raise the plane to its deck. Lower photo was taken only a moment after Charles and Anne plunged into the Yangtze. It shows Mrs. Lindbergh on her knees on rescue sampan with Col. Lindbergh holding on to the boat. Arrows indicate them.

Britton Action Is Barred To Public

(By Associated Press)
TOLEDO, O., Nov. 2.—The remainder of Nan Britton's $50,000 libel suit against C. A. Clark, Marion, O., hotel keeper will be heard behind closed doors. Federal Judge John N. Killits, who is hearing the suit brought by the author of "The President's Daughter," today barred newspaper men and other spectators from his court during the remainder of the trial.

Counsel for Miss Britton, resumed reading her book to the jury today. The suit alleges Klunk circulated a book entitled, "The Answer to the President's Daughter," which Miss Britton claims reflected discredit on her reputation.

Man Beaten, Dies
Zanesville, O., Nov. 2.—Police were seeking Elmer Barker, 41, for questioning in connection with the fatal beating of Charles Graham, 38, at the home of Barker's divorced wife here yesterday.

Police said the woman told them the men fought over a long-standing grudge.

Hit by Auto, Dies

ATHENS, O., Nov. 2.—Injuries received when he was struck by an automobile were fatal to Charles Sapp, 73.

Harold Campbell, 19, was charged with manslaughter in connection with Sapp's death.

Fumes Prove Fatal

MANFIELD, O., Nov. 2.—Carbon monoxide poisoning was believed responsible for the death of Lloyd Newcomer, 45, pioneer Mansfield automobile dealer, found dead in his closed garage.

Nab 27 In Drive

PORTSMOUTH, O., Nov. 2.—Eight arrests yesterday brought to 27, the total number of persons taken in a drive by federal prohibition men in Scioto, Lawrence, Pike and Jackson counties recently.

The arrests yesterday were in Lawrence and Scioto counties.

Take Cut In Wages

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Nov. 2.—A wage reduction of $1 a day, effective today, bringing the wage scale from $11 a day, has been accepted voluntarily by journeymen plumbers here.

THEATER Attractions

"THE SPIRIT OF NOTRE DAME" picture written in memory of the late Knute Rockne, its beloved coach, is the feature attraction, today at the State.

The picture includes in its supporting cast such famous Rockne-coached players as Frank Carideo, twice All-American quarterback, "The Four Horsemen," Moen Mullins and Bucky O'Connor, William Bakewell, J. Farrell MacDonaid, Sally Blane, Andy Deine and Harry Harris also play prominent roles in this fast-moving production—a story of youth.

The picture stars Lew Ayres, as a country boy just entering Notre Dame university, and later, in his junior year, becoming the ball-carrying hero of the team, definitely headed for All-American selection in the following season. But there arises a situation which interferes with these plans, and eventually brings the young football star to a point where he forgets the spirit animating the team, and becomes an outcast in the eyes of his fellow players. This portion of the picture is fraught with drama, and the boyish Lew makes the most of every scene.

"DAUGHTER OF THE DRAGON," Sax Rohmer's mystery thriller with the ever touching Oriental background is at the Grand theater today.

The story of "Daughter of the Dragon" is generated by the exploits of a vengeful mandarin and his beautiful daughter, who come to London to rub out a traditional debt of honor, incident in the alleged slaying of oriental royalists, several generations removed.

Anna May Wong, Warner Oland and Sessue Hayakawa form a formidable Oriental element for this production. Frances Dade and Bramwell Fletcher play the romantic leads.
